3. HEAR PRESENTATIONS BY PERSONS WHO HAVE LIFE EXPERIENCES RELATED TO SUICIDE. DISCUSS THE PRESENTATIONS AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR POSSIBLE AGENDA ITEMS TO BE HEARD AT THE NEXT MEETING AS DETERMINED BY AGENDA ITEM # 7

Richard Egan discussed the importance of the presentations of lived experience and introduced the presenters.

James Bean discussed his experiences which he wrote in his book, When the Humor is Gone. He discussed living a superficial life and hiding his feelings from those around him while feeling depressed inside. Mr. Egan asked Mr. Bean to expound on his instinct to stay alive. Ms. Scholl asked Mr. Bean if he recognized his own depression. Mike Bernstein asked if Mr. Bean's experience helped him recognize depression in his daughter.

Amaris Knight discussed her life experience leading up to her childhood suicide attempt and shared what helped her to cope with struggles in her young adult life. Lesley Dickson asked Ms. Knight about her attempt to overdose and disclosure of her attempt. Jamie Ross recognized if using the Adverse Childhood Experiences and Suicide Attempts scale (ACEs) Ms. Knight's life situation would have scored zero. Ms. Ross asked Ms. Knight to discuss what risk factors are missing on the scale. Ms. Knight believes the ACEs can be narrowly viewed, missing cultural factors. Ms. Ross proposed including a social isolation factor to ACEs. Ms. Knight suggested adding different adjudicating systems to support different educational systems. Mr. Egan discussed middle and upper middle-class families' susceptibility to suicide. Ms. Scholl asked how Ms. Knight found her way to counseling and how it has helped her in her current life. Mr. Knight discussed reaching out to a family member and the family's fear preventing them from responding.

Bianca McCall discussed her current work with suicide prevention, and her chaotic childhood life with a high risk for suicide. She discussed her suicide attempt, her double life, her struggle with disappointing people, being a collegiate athlete, suffering from depression, and discovering her purpose to work in suicide prevention.

Mr. Bernstein noted all the presenters expressed at the lowest points of their lives they had strong feelings of disappointing others. Mr. Bean asked Ms. McCall to discuss her experience with "code shifting” as it relates to the African American culture. Ms. McCall discussed coping with a state of duality caused by living in a primarily white neighborhood and relating to her family from a primarily black neighborhood. Misty Allen asked Ms. McCall how a person can help another who has constant thoughts of suicide. Ms. McCall advised tracking engagement is important. She said chronic suicidality is likely more common than thought and is related to self-harm and high-risk behaviors. Mr. Egan mentioned diversity in one’s life can build resiliency to life issues. Ms. McCall discussed the sub-cultures and resources in Las Vegas. Brett Harding asked what motivated Ms. McCall to play basketball. Ms. McCall replied basketball benefited her physically, emotionally and socially. She expressed the importance of positive group engagement activities along with traditional service delivery. She stated the importance the activities play in transitioning the response to suicidality from a clinical to a community response. Ms. Knight compared her experience with dancing to Ms. McCall’s experience with basketball and discussed the unaffordability and inaccessibility of theater arts programs and some sports programs for income challenged families.

Mr. Bernstein asked for public comment. None was heard.

Mr. Bernstein called for a break at 10 :35 AM. Mr. Bernstein called the meeting back to order at 11:02 AM.

Lesley Dickson updated the members on the legislative bills drafted by the mental health boards, such as adding a fifth mental health board consisting of particular rural counties, requesting funds for administrative support, and collecting data related to post Legal 2000 (L2K) patients’ emergency room discharge. The Northern Regional Board is proposing to rewrite the L2K law language. Dr. Dickson discussed the Legislature’s delay in presenting bills. The Washoe County policy board’s bill for a crisis triage center may still be in process. The Rural Board’s bill is related to patient transport. Jamie Ross mentioned the removal of the population cap for crisis stabilization units. Dr. Dickson questioned the ability to keep the units funded.

Mike Bernstein asked for public comment. None was heard.

5. DISCUSS AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING WINNEMUCCA AS THE POSSIBLE LOCATION FOR THE NEXT FACE TO FACE MEETING TO REVIEW CASES OF SUICIDE DEATHS

Misty Allen reported Winnemucca had nine adult deaths by suicide in the Fall of 2018. Washoe County Coroner Laura Knight is trying to obtain the cases for the Committee’s review either in Reno or in Winnemucca. Sharon Benson stated having the meeting with the Winnemucca Coroner would allow for more in-depth information on the cases. John Harney agreed engagement with the community would be important. Mike Bernstein asked if this meeting would be a closed session. Ms. Allen explained how the Domestic Violence Fatality Review Committee model works. Ms. Benson voiced support to look at the cases. Richard Egan mentioned the importance of looking at the group of Winnemucca cases.

Cherylyn Wood came on the phone and introduced herself.

Jamie Ross noted the logistics for traveling from Las Vegas to Winnemucca will be more difficult. Marlyn Scholl suggested collaborating on community outreach on the same day of the meeting.

Mr. Bernstein asked for public comment. None was heard.

6. DISCUSS, MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS AND APPROVE THE COMMITTEE'S ANNUAL REPORT TO THE DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Misty Allen requested the members provide further contribution to the annual report. Sharon Benson clarified all comments should be sent directly to Ms. Allen to avoid problems with Open Meeting Law. Lesley Dickson mentioned including information on the bill regarding suicide prevention CEU/CME requirement for doctors. Ms. Allen stated this was not a recommendation by this Committee.

Dr. Dickson reported doctors did not show interest in suicide prevention trainings she helped coordinate. Richard Egan noted the University Medical Center has an upcoming safeTALK training for doctors. Dr. Dickson noted about 9,000 doctors are licensed in Nevada. She discussed the Medical Board's enforcement of the suicide prevention training requirement for medical licenses and the Medical Board's focus on the opioid crisis. Ms. Allen reported training suicide prevention to some doctors as part of the opioid crisis three-day training. She said pediatricians and nurses are responsive to the trainings. Mr. Egan noted the Southern Nevada Nursing Board's stand on the requirement. Ms. Allen noted the legislation was written in a way to exclude some types of nurses. Dr. Dickson noted the 2019 bill regarding suicide prevention training in the school system.

Mike Bernstein noted doctors acknowledging the importance of opioid addiction prevention and hoped there could be as much concern with suicide prevention.

Ms. Allen discussed the occurrences of Crisis Now Summits throughout the state in connection with the Statewide Suicide Prevention Conference at the Suncoast in Las Vegas on October 16 -18, 2019. The conference will include discussion about Zero Suicide which includes strategic planning in the health care system. She will work to obtain Continuing Medical Education accreditation for conference attendees.

Dr. Dickson would like Ms. Allen to include the medical license suicide prevention requirement in the report.

Mr. Bernstein asked for public comment. None was heard.
